STRAW VOTE ON COUNTRY CLUB ACQUISITION AT NEXT TUESDAY'S ELECTION

GI Agricultural School Planned To Start Here Shortly

All Agricultural Efforts Included In Recent Provisions

Uncle Sam has taken cognizance of the plight of Geese in the rural areas who can't afford to quit his work to go to college, or to some professional or trade school to improve his chances in life as have thousands more from similar families. Geese can't work at their regular job and go to school nights to combine theory with his practical work.

He can do this—if he's really in earnest and makes a good showing—and be paid while he goes to school on the same basis as the boy who is going to college under the GI Bill of Rights.

It is necessary to have a minimum of 18 and 25 is a more logical number. It will not continue the work, so he wants a surplus of applicants, after he obtains the necessary 18. So if you are now engaged in some agricultural work—other than part-time and selling—you are eligible.

Under the law veterans may receive $75 per month to $120 for those with children. The purpose of this money is not to just give you something, but to make up for whatever time you are away from your regular work and to help you keep your family. You must maintain some marks and a showing on your practical work to convince the authorities that you're really "putting out."

At one time you had to be actually moving the dirt to qualify, but recent regulations recognize that rabbits are raised as a business; that you produce eggs and income to those who work with them, or that poultry is substance business. Cattle allow several professions: growing of grasses as grazing hay or mixed feed-stuffs are the two main ones enjoyed in agriculture and the form of work you are doing is generally practiced in the community, then see Wilbur Kirchner right away and get enrolled.

Competent teachers are available in the Glades.

Straw Ballot Set On C. Club Issue

City commissioners moved to have an unofficial ballot on the issue of the city taking over the Country Club of the Everglades at a special meeting Tuesday night.

The voting will be held in connection with the city election September 12, but ballots on the issue will be deposited in separate containers.

They passed the budget on the basis of 10 cents per city mileage at 12 which is a reduction of two mills over that of last year.

Shootin' Blanks By Paulette

Suppose one happened to fall on her head while coming out of an ice cream parlor and for one desperate minute imagined she was a candidate in a city election. She would be faced with this worst of all dilemmas: she would compose a platform, such as the world had never heard before, on which to run. If I were candidate and I were male, I would probably be elected to the house and the total population of Belle Glade would be increased.

If I were female, I would outlaw parallel parking within the

JONES IS APPOINTED ARMISTICE DAY CHAIRMAN

Legionnaires appointed L. W. Jones chairman of the Armistice Day celebration program at the Everglades Post No. 2 meeting Tuesday night in the Legion Hall.

Temporary plans for the celebration at which the post office building will be dedicated, include several well-known speakers, a march and a special meeting of the Legion and Auxiliary was scheduled for September 19.

The program calls for a banquet, dancing and card games with Mrs. Jack Rashley in charge of arrangements.

Program At Park Begins For Pre-School Children

City Park Supervisor, Mrs. C. W. McDonald, announces a new program to begin Monday, September 11, for pre-school children, including children of nursery age.

Mrs. McDonald states she is endeavoring to get a new supply of sand box materials and sand and clay bank barrels will be brought. Supervised play hours will be from 8 to 11 each morning. Assisting Mrs. McDonald will be Mrs. Ruby Donaldson.

School Enrollment Of 352 Is Record

Belle Glade High School enrollment of 352 students is a record set by Frank O. Homan principal.

The enrollment figure represents the yearly ten percent increase which has been taking place in the school, Homan says. About 10 to 60 more students will be admitted each year, and late registration will probably slightly boost the figure.

Three post graduate students, Mariette Campbell, Maxine Schug and Jean Lefebvre, were included in the enrollment.

Grade registration totals are: first, 73; second, 65; third, 65; fourth, 53; fifth, 66; sixth, 66; seventh, 68; eighth, 66; ninth, 67; tenth, 68; eleventh, 64; and twelfth, 31. Girls outnumber the boys by four students.

FREE FOOTBALL CLINIC SCHEDULED SEPT. 21

Lions Club free football clinic will be held Saturday, Sept. 21 at 7:30 p. m. in Memorial Field, according to Coach Doug Leavitt.

The program will include explanations of rules and rule changes. The clinic will be preceded by an exhibition during intermission. Offensive and defensive formations will be analyzed during the second half of the program.

Baptist Circle Elects Officers For New Year

Speaking on the "Effects and Defense against Atomic War," Dr. R. L. Pipes addressed the Junior Rotarians at the regular luncheon meeting last Friday.

Using Miami as an example, Dr. Pipes cited various problems which could arise there. He also described effects to outlying towns such as Bell Glade.

Dr. Pipes elaborated on medical treatment of atomic attack casualties in summarizing the new booklet on atomic defense issued by the government recently.

THE SMALL PER CENT

Controversy over the World Federalists referendum, to be voted on in Florida at the general election in November, has waged hot here recently. Talks have been made at civic clubs on both sides of the question, and members are studying the proposal and its implications.

The question, which questions evidence healthy interest and practices of the democratic procedure. Yet, this issue, which has gathered such momentum, has tended to blot out issues nearer in time to us.

Our government functions as a whole on national, state, county and city levels. They are integral parts of the whole, and each is important to every citizen.

In debate on this national and international issue, the decision which is still three months off, many local citizens lost sight of the permanent city registration which has been under way here and election of North Borough and Central Borough commissioners coming up September 12.

City Clerk Frank Anderson reported at the last city commission meeting that he had done everything he could think of to remind people to register. He asked that he be allowed to spend out the campaign the last week with posters on public vehicles.

Saturday the books were closed. Registration fell about a hundred behind that of last year. The census attributes a population of 6,889 to Belle Glade. Only about 1100 registered. In other words, 18 per cent of our population are eligible to cast their vote in the election. The per capita is one of the lowest in the state.

For those who are not members of the population, which is not qualified for registration here, the showing is poor.

Actually 84 per cent of the local residents will not speak through their ballots. The commission will not represent their choice. The choice will be dictated by the 16 per cent minority.

The majority will not have the right to criticize the new group of commissioners, for their words will be too late and without effect.

Squint's Drumming.
For Fair Play!

Squint Miller's mighty proud of the lot he owns that fronts on River Road—one of the prettiest spots around here.

He's been in a show about it lately, though. Seeed that trashy newspaper that took hold of his property, took their car or truck, and took a load of rubbish, spilling all over his place and the roadside, too. Wouldn't that make you mad?

Last night Squint dropped by. Under a friendly glass of beer, he tells me what he does. "I put a couple of empty oil drums out there," he says, "with a big sign reading: 'If you must dump trash—use these—! I like to keep my place clean.'

Now when I see Squint's sign about not dumping trash—rubbish—trash—dumps—privately dressed ashamed of themselves. Now and then some folks just have to be reminded that they ought to have as much regard for their neighbor's rights as they do for their own.

The sale of those lands does not know it can be stated that the general membership has contributed more than the City will have to spend for the Club, and all creditors are agreeing to a deferment of their interests so that the project may have a chance to get on its feet. The persons—the persons who own the mortgage—can fence in the Club and go into the cattle business right quick and realize a handsome profit over time. They have been patient and are continuing to do so in the interest of the community.

As a business proposition, the City could very easily realize a profit on the ground and buildings if a real estate program may have a chance to go on, gold, dance, even gossip occasionally, remember the younger generation and their friends and help provide wholesome recreation and pastime for your friends and relatives. If the recreation is not all that we might hope for, it certainly will take the place of much more undesirable pastime that is and will be made available.

LIONS CLUB ISSUES FIRST

Lions will pitch in again soon to erect a corral. When the grass has gotten a good start, the steers will be moved to the ranch from Mrs. Wedgeworth Timmon's pastures.

The project, which started with the purchase of land with the proceeds of the 1948 bond issue, is now a new start.

If I were candidate and a "Hot Rod Happy," I would urge a law calling for the arrest of all persons driving less than sixty miles an hour on city limits.

If I were candidate and a revolutionary coach, I would call the Golden Rams the Charging Brahmans. Their uniforms would be black and green high-light with a bear design on the shirts.

If I were candidate and had devoted my golden youth to newspaper offices, I would advocate going around in circles and for the revolutions. I would set reporters' schedules at 8 a. m. to 8:15 p. m. for one day a week.

Yes, all that I would do in plugging for the more abundant life if I were candidate for one desperate minute.

Small first aid kits might well be standard equipment on the farm tractor and other equipment.

Others candidate and member of the younger romantic set, I would speak for a gondola service on all canal arterials within the city limits on moonlight nights. Perhaps the old Venetians liked their rowing on their soap boxes and presented the idea first, but my plan would have a new slant.

CHLORDANE + FERTILIZER

Farmers who have the "grow-how" credit much of their success to the right combination of chlordane and fertilizers. For they know that chlordane when mixed with fertilizer can control the soil borne insects that literally work from the bottom up to destroy profitable crop acreage. When chlordane is applied properly, it provides your crop with plenty of protection against these ravaging insect pests.

So be sure your insecticide contains chlordane, the all around insect toxicant.

For further information, see your local dealer or consult your county agent for proper recommendation.

Chlordane controls household insects, too!

A 17th century quotation attributed to Matthew Henry was cited here today by Director H. N. Kirkman in support of the Florida Highway Patrol's new campaign. The complete Bible in Latin in two volumes, was presented to the world in either 1455 or 1456.

"Mons so blind as those that will not see," Kirkman said, "is a theory that goes far in explaining the cause of a great many of the traffic deaths occurring." The State Safety Council has estimated that, for every 100 drivers involved in a fatal accident there are about 23 cases where a sign, signal or traffic officer had been ignored. The Florida Highway Patrol said.

"For every driver involved in an accident who genuinely doesn't see the traffic sign or signal," Kirkman said, "there are probably a hundred who do see it and either fail to comprehend its meaning in time to avert a crash, or blithely ignore it."

The Florida Highway Patrol pointed out that over-familiarity with the traffic signs, signals, and regulations in any territory frequently traveled by a driver can lead to carelessness and make him a potential accident victim. In 1948, nearly three-fourths of the fatal traffic accidents occurred within 25 miles of the driver's home according to the National Safety Council.

Warning of this tendency on the part of drivers, the Florida Highway Patrol is urging them to regard ALL streets and highways as foreign territory and potentially dangerous known as its "Signs of

"Folksongs of Fla."
Latest One-Off Press

Folksongs of Florida ($7.50) is the title of the latest book to be published by the University of Florida Press. Written by Dr. Alton C. Morris, a native of Florida, this book is a compilation of songs native and derived from the state.

These songs record the struggles and triumphs of a people during Florida's colonization period and during the Civil War. Southerners will welcome this momentous account of these songs as they have long loved and sung.

Dr. Morris, professor at the University of Florida, worked for 25 years compiling the songs of his native state. His collection includes both sacred and profane songs, spirituals, and songs of war, songs of love and marriage, songs of prison and of the open sea.

Folksongs of Florida is the first book published on Florida's folk music. It contains many elsewhere found English, Scottish, and Irish songs, which have been merged into Florida's traditional lays.

Dr. Morris obtained his collection through personal contact with the peoples of Spanish, Greek, Italian, and other communities of Florida, as well as from the native singers. He has preserved in the book 243 songs with 125 variants. Dr. Leonard Deutch has transcribed the melodies for 187 of the song texts.

Safety Warning Given

"Don't let school bells sound the death knell for YOUR child!"

This grim warning was issued by State Patrol Director H. N. Kirkman, spokesman for the state's comprehensive program of traffic safety education as millions of youngsters trooped to classrooms throughout the country—many for the first time.

"For the beginner," Kirkman said, "there may be his first trials with familiarity with the dangers of the street, and the problems that he must face for himself without Mother's personal guidance. For that reason, the danger to the very young is extreme at this time of year."

This emphasis on child safety—the necessity for thorough safety—is part of the Florida educators and parents and the driver's responsibility for child safety—is part of the Florida Highway Patrol's program this month.

Another important part of the program, Kirkman said, will be devoted to acquainting the public with the record of young drivers as a group, and how that record can be improved.

"Traffic safety education," Kirkman said, "is not a thing that we arbitrarily end with the student's fourth, eighth, or twelfth grade of education. A 11—so-called 'mature'—drivers themselves have much to learn about traffic safety, so the process is obviously a never-ending one. Instruction early in a child's life, however, will do much to make things safer for him, and in 10 or 20 years when he is of driving age, for all of us."

Using the slogan, "Set THEM A GOOD Example," the Florida Highway Patrol hopes to convince all adults that their teachings may mean the difference between life or death for some youngsters.

FARMERS MUST DO MORE WITH LESS, SAYS MAYO

Food is essential whether in peace or war, states Commissioner Nathan Mayo. The farmer is first defense, and with the war on, he must do more and women from agricultural fields to the war effort, farmers will have to do the work with less help.

Every man going into the war service must have 8 tons of equipment and it requires 30 men and women to keep one man in service and about 100 men and women to keep one bomb flying.

Safety, whether at home, in work or play, is an economic necessity and a patriotic responsibility; therefore, not only the farmer but everyone engaged in work must be careful in homes, industry and on the streets and highways.

Safety is just common sense, stated Asher Frank of the Florida Safety Council.

FCD SAVES MONEY, SAYS EARMAN IN WSWN TALK

Already some three and one-half million dollars have been saved by Southern Flood Control District in their necessary acquisition of lands to carry out the huge project, according to Joe Earman, Vero Beach chairman of the Central-South Florida Flood Control Board. These savings, says Earman, came about by public agencies, such as the State Internal Improvement Trust Fund, and private citizens, who either gave their lands or sold for very low prices, which has resulted in the original control estimate of $3,600,000 cost resulting in a buy at only $160,000.

Mr. Earman, however, not all has been on the happiness-and-light side, for counsel for the control authorities are preparing a few condemnation suits to acquire necessary lands which, eventually, will total some 900,000 acres, lying in Broward, Palm Beach and Dade Counties.

Working in close cooperation with U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, with headquarters in Clewiston, Chairman Earman says much of the endless paper work to be done will be handled by the F.C.D. recently classified much of the project's purpose and resultant benefits to residents of the Lake Okeechobee area, in a fifteen-minute address made over radio station WSWN, here.

Co. Red Cross To Handle Emergency Korea Messages

At the request of E. Tinsley Halter, Chairman of Palm Beach County American Red Cross, and for the benefit of the families of American servicemen in Korea, National headquarters advised the local chapter today of important rules to be followed in attempting to reach men on the war fronts or on military installations, in time of family emergencies.

In view of this information, Mr. Halter announced that the local Red Cross Home Service Department will handle emergency messages in the following situations:

When commercial telegraph or cable service is not available or cannot be used, and it would not meet the need for speedy action in family situations involving death, serious illness, or birth—if there are complications, and problems of allowances, allotments, or business affairs in which time is a factor.

When members of the family have been unsuccessful in efforts to communicate directly with the serviceman about an urgent family matter.

When the services of American Red Cross representatives are needed to help the service man consider a family problem, or when they are needed to help the service man meet the shock of distressing news.

Mr. Halter said that the chapter has been advised that there are now 21 Red Cross field workers in Korea prepared to handle communications of this type to the nation's 3,700 chapters. Mr. Halter also pointed out that the field workers that next of him are always notified by the War Department of casualties and Red Cross has nothing to do with this procedure.

GLADES CONV. NAMED ON PVA CONV. COMMITTEE

Glades vegetable growers will figure prominently in the annual convention of the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association, October 4-6 in Miami Beach.

LaMonte Graw, FFVA manager, named Jimmy Wilson, R. Y. Creech, Sr., I. L. Price, Belle Glade; R. B. Mackey, Jess Elliott, Lewis Friend, Homer Clark and L. L. Pahokee, Palmetto, members of the management and attendance committee.

Others named to committees included: A. J. Sullivan, resolutions committee; Harrison Raul, distinguished guests; R. Y. Clark, Sr., "get-together committee"; and Roy Vandergrift, Jr., Pahokee, nominating committee.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS AWARD RADIO CONTRACT

County commissioners recently awarded to the Motorola Company a contract for furnishing radio equipment to the sheriff's department at a cost of $6,970, over the objections of C. V. Byrd, board member from Delray Beach, who opposed the action on the basis that the General Electric Co. had submitted a bid $600 lower.

Commissioner John Prince of Lake Worth moved the motion awarding the contract to Motorola but stipulated that his stand was based on a recommendation from the sheriff's department, which had been given two weeks to make an investigation.

Prince said that under the statutes, the county was permitted to make the award for the "best" or the "lowest," and pointed out that Sheriff John F. Kirk whose department will use the radio equipment, had recommended Motorola. Involved in the purchase were ten sets for the sheriff's car, an operating station in the new county jail and an antenna.

When the contract was put to vote, four of the commissioners voted in favor, with Byrd voting "no."

The commission also took steps at Monday's meeting to launch work on the development of the new county Phipps Park on the oceanfront between Lake Worth and Palm Beach. Commissioner Prince said that with work on AIA nearing completion, he would favor that County Engineer J. M. Boyd be instructed to proceed with paving at least one parking area in the new park and doing whatever other planning was possible at this time.

Vice-Chairman Paul Rardin, of Canal Point, who presided at the commission session, was authorized to attend a meeting of the National Association of County Commissioners in Atlanta this week. It was brought out that the meeting will be important to county commissions throughout the country, and Rardin, who is vice-president of the State Association of County Commissions, will attend the event both as a representative of the Florida organization and the Palm Beach County Commission.

Proved dependability that makes them the MOST POPULAR Motor-oils in Florida!

MOTORS being unable to read, are unimpressed by the claims being made for some gasolines these days. They can perform only on the quality that is actually in the gasoline.

The engines in most of the new model cars require higher anti-knock motor fuel than heretofore. To meet this need, Crown and Crown Extra Gasolines have been further improved by building in additional anti-knock power. Along with higher octane, they also possess other essential qualities.

They are made in seasonal grades, assuring thorough vaporization and protecting against vapor-lock in hot weather, and contain a special solvent to minimize gum deposits. They are the best gasolines ever sold at the Standard Oil sign.

We have never found it necessary to make exaggerated claims for Crown and Crown Extra. We sell them for exactly what they are... dependable motor fuels possessing the all-round qualities which make them leaders in their respective fields.

That's why more motorists come back to Standard Oil stations than to any other stations in Florida.

Grandmother Would Envy Today's Bride Her Success At Making Delicious Spreads

By BETTY BARCLAY

Jelly-making nowadays is a far cry from the simple operation in days of yore. Grandmothers say the modern homeemaker no longer uses many fruits that she can use many fruits that are now considered poor.

Most of all, moderns consider for jelly-making fruits that are not makers of perfect results, whether they be inexperienced bride or veteran. Given the opportunity to gaze with pleasure at today's accurate recipes with exact measurements, you will be surprised at how easy it is to make a working housewife whose time is limited to get out the best results with minimum effort.

MILLER OFFERS TIPS ON STERILIZING SOIL FOR PLATS FOR SEED

Now is the time when flower gardeners are getting ready to plant seed of annuals for late winter and early spring bloom, and Dr. H. N. Miller, plant pathologist with the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station offers some pointers to help them produce sturdy plants.

Almost any type of soil can be used in the flats or seed beds, even sand. Dr. Miller says if it is sterile, He gives two simple and inexpensive ways to sterilize soil for home plantings.

Small amounts of soil can be sterilized by heating in the oven of any stove. The temperature and time for heating are approximately the same as that required to make a medium-size potato.

If comparatively large quantities of soil are needed, the cheapest method of sterilization is to dress the soil with a mixture of one pint of formaldehyde and one gallon of water—using one gallon of the mixture to each square foot of soil. The soil should then be air-dried until the odor of formaldehyde has disappeared, usually about two or three days.

Sterilizing the soil is useless, however, unless old board flats or the boards around the seedbeds are sterilized too. Dr. Miller advises. They should be cleaned thoroughly and scrubbed with a solution of formaldehyde or any other good fungicide such as Fomate. If Fomate is used, a solution of one pound of Fomate in six gallons of water will be sufficient. Flats or beds should be dry before filling with sterilized soil.

KOREAN WAR DEFENSE PROGRAM WILL AFFECT PRICE OF VEGETABLES

What about prices for Florida vegetables in the 1950-51 season? Asked F. W. Marvin of the Florida Agricultural Extension Service, he said that the most important item which vegetable prices hinge on is the Korean War and the size and scope of the defense program will be cope with the war situation.

If the government is forced to take over control with controls on the more expensive items while putting more dollars in the working-man's pocket thru defense projects, then the demand for and price of vegetables will rise, and perhaps rise sharply, the economist pointed out. Even with no controls on luxuries items, the increase in business activity ca-

"Over the long haul, success to any selling venture will go to those who have a superior product to sell, and who put faith in themselves and their product, and a constantly renewing reservoir of public good will."

Mr. O'Malley continued,

is sound, well balanced, program to back up the sales effort of the Chrysler dealers."

He pointed out that earlier this summer the Chrysler Division had embarked on the greatest and most comprehensive advertising campaign in history.

Briefly, the process of making is to mix juice or puree and honey—half and half—and incorporate a vacuum at relatively low heat save honey. The product is then cooled. Just before filling into small packages a little finely crystallized honey is stirred in slowly. This "starter" causes all the honey to crystallize at the same temperature (55 to 60 F.). Thus the spread acquires its creaminess. A similar method is used to convert liquid honey to the familiar "creamed honey."

The new spread may be stored without refrigeration or frozen or in sandwich jars. Its convenience in spreading and for keeping on the cupboard shelf, its delicious flavor and appetizing appearance and its wholesome ingredients should make it a great sweet treat when it goes into commercial manufacture.

With all the potency of our advertising program and all the modern advances in means of conveying the advertising message, we must never forget that the salesman is still the keystone of the successful enterprise."

Florida farmers should have little difficulty in obtaining ample supplies of fertilizer to produce 1950-51 crops, the Florida Agricultural Outlook Committee reports.

Some difficulties may be encountered at times in obtaining mixtures with specific proportions of the "minor" elements. The group reports that more serious developments in the Keweenaw situation might result in diversion of some materials from fertilizers to industry. Where requirements are exact and specific mixtures needed, farmers would be wise to accept early delivery of needed amounts.

Bruson's figures reveal that Glades can load shipments of perishables from Everglades stations, Maytown thru Lake Harbor, amounted to 14,323 loads against 12,316 loads shipped in 1945-46, the highest season during the war.

Note: This is the second installment of a story about an amateur anthropologist who lives in Ruby Allyn's "Best Bet" from St. Petersburg to Miami via Jacksonville and the Inland Waterway.

You might think that launching 6,000 pounds of boat in a swift running creek would be a tough job, but believe it or not, Ruby Allyn did it all by himself. Because of the construction of the boat and the manner of attachment to the trailer, all he had to do was simply back the trailer, boat and all, into the water, loosen the trailer fasteners and pull away the trailer and the "Best Bet" was at sea, fully equipped and ready to ride. I have seen two or three boats lose themselves out trying to launch a small open boat from a trailtive runners, the "Best Bet" just slides up and off an obstruction like a snake or turns willy-nilly into the water. It was amazing.

Arriving at the drawbridge on the road between Green Cove Springs and Jacksonville we had to wait while it was opened by hand, about a twenty minute job. With time on our hands, we anchored the boat and went in for a cool swim and were back on board again in time to pass through the bridge and wave a "Thank You" to the goggle-eyed bridge tenders, who had never seen anything like the "Best Bet."

Black Creek is a beautiful stream that winds its way into the broad St. Johns at a point just above Green Cove Springs; so we could see the Navy's mothball fleet riding at anchor as we came into the river. Still steering, I was carefully following the channel stakes that took a roundabout course.

It called my attention to the fact that "Jacksonville was built on sand and sand covers the flats, Skipper, and Damn the torpedoes!" Following his instructions I was soon moving over grass flats that were not more than 2 or 3 feet deep. Now and then a motor would kick up when the propeller hit

Now and then when the grass and mud got too thick we would have to turn around and wait to give our outboards a chance to perform, but we never had to worry about any damage to the boat. As we headed for the flats a fisherman in a small power boat hailed us and shouted, "You can't go that way with that big boat, there ain't no water." He thought we were stark staring mad. We just laughed, tossed him a cold Coca-Cola and told him we were coming aboard next week for the next lap of our journey.
